PROFILE

All of us are searching for something. Whether it is a good school, a good job or a nice relationship, we are searching for the one thing. It is happiness. I believe, that one of the important things what makes people happy is the feeling to be themselves. So who is the person from this CV? There is no doubt that I am the servant heart who genuinely love people. I love to look more deeper into things, add the meaning and contribute with my presence. There are many issues with the working and personal life, as well as the solutions which can be created. The creation of meaningful business is my spirit and I believe, that we can put our hearts into it together.
